JEAN DE KOVEN IS VICTIM IN CASE

Prisoner's Story Reveals Him As Modern "Bluebeard" Police Relate

PARIS, Dec. 9—The body of Jean De Koven, missing New York dancer whom a German named Siegfried Weidmann confessed murdering, was found this afternoon in his villa at St. Cloud.

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 9.—A former German political prisoner, who claimed he murdered for profit alone, today confessed the slaying of Jean De Koven, pretty New York dancer who mysteriously disappeared from her Paris hotel last August 6, according to Paris police.

In a torrent of self-accusation, the prisoner, described as Siegfried Weidmann of Frankfort-on-Main, admitted four other murders, authorities declared. While he said he held Miss De Koven in his St. Cloud villa overnight, he was quoted as stating:

"I killed her only for money. I killed them all for money. There never were any other reasons."

Despite his protestations of murder for profit only, police issued a

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Milling through the shopping district today Pa Newc learned that Santa Claus has turned his inventive genius toward mechanical toys. Fire engines that run, babies that creep, Penguins that walk, airplanes that fly, dogs that bark, roosters that crow. One clever little toy is a dancing couple. You wind them up and give them the floor, where they remind you of Goldsmith's lines in the Deserted Village, "The dancing pair that simply sought renown by holding out to tire each other down". Oh yes, and there is our friend, the "Devil in the band box", an old time mechanical toy that never fails to shock and amuse.

If a rooster marries a white hen, what happens. Give it up, do you? Well, not so with the government experimenters. They've solved the riddle. The sons of the couple will be white and their daughters red. What of it?, you say, just this. When the family is in the "chicks" class, or more properly the kindergarten, it's hard to tell who's who. But applying the formula the poultrymen can separate them. Why? So the roosters won't be able to cheat the hens at the feed trough. But even at that it don't solve the old problem of which came first, the hen or the egg.

City Tax Millage To Remain Same

Budget Ordinance Is Presented At Council Session This Morning

NO TAX RATE CHANGE COUNCILMEN REPORT

During council session at City Hall today there was sent to committee a proposed ordinance designating appropriations amounting to $540,975.91 for the operating expense of the city next year.

It was stated by council the tax millage would remain the same as at present, 11½ mills.

The bill containing a list of the appropriations is now on display for the public at the city clerk's office.

Council also made a part of the city records, a motion by Councilman James L. Fink, that all requests for increased wages had been refused, in order that council could keep down appropriations and retain the present tax millage.

The budget bill was introduced by Councilman Fink and will not be adopted until December 30.

The budget shows that, the only new equipment to be bought, will be two small trucks for the street department, an auto for the garbage department and a motorcycle for the police department. In compiling the budget no provision was made for the 44-hour week law which is to be tested in court, council stated.

Nine Persons Die In Knoxville Fire

(International News Service)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 9.—Nine white persons, six of them children, died horribly early today when flames swept through a condemned "fire trap" in the tenement district here.

Six others were injured when they leaped to safety from the second floor inferno.

The victims were:

Mrs. McKinley Connaster, 35; her daughter, Virginia, 6; and her sons, Luther, 12, and Vallee, 4.

Mrs. Cora Tate, 56; her son, Eugene, 17, and grandsons, R. L. Melton, 12; Junior Melton, 6, and James Earl Melton, 9.

The cause of the blaze was unknown but it was believed it had started from an overheated stove in the ramshackle structure.

The fire spread so rapidly that the roof had caved in by the time firemen arrived and those trapped within were left without a chance of escape. Later firemen found five bodies charred beyond recognition huddled together in one room, another three were piled in an adjacent room.

The building had been crowded with tenants, with as many as eight and nine in a single small apartment, according to reports.

Fire Chief Johnson branded the blaze as the worst in the town's history in point of life lost. The condition of the building was apparent in his $2,000 estimate of the property damage.

District In Grip Of Near Zero Weather

(International News Service)

Freezing weather clamped its icy grip over the entire state today.

In the tri-state Pittsburgh area the thermometer was expected today to flirt with the zero mark while from other parts of the state came additional reports of freezing weather.

A white blanket covered the western portion of the state, mounting in the wake of a steady fall. Eastern Pennsylvania as yet was free of snow although there has been some flurries. The weather prediction for today there was "much colder," with no relief in sight.

In the central part of the state the temperature hit a low of 18 yesterday with continued cold weather and snow flurries forecast. Slush ice formed on the Susquehanna river and the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted the stream would close in some of its more shallow portions today and tomorrow.

In the tri-state district wintry blasts from the northwest pummeled the region and the early-season cold wave was expected to last for at least another two days.

At the airport at Pittsburgh the temperature fell to nine degrees above zero. Snow covered the highways with thousands of state highway department employes working to keep the roads open. City streets were covered with ice and snow, making travel hazardous. Seven were reported killed yesterday throughout the state.

In Pennsylvania's northwest "ice box" snow and bitter cold ruled. Ski runs at Kane were packed a foot and a half deep and the season's first "snow train" was scheduled to leave Pittsburgh for Kane Saturday.

DECISION GIVEN BY COUNTY COURT

Early Decision On 44-Hour Week Is Now Expected

Test Suit Is Filed In Injunction Proceedings Of Kane Concern

STATE MUST ANSWER MOVE DECEMBER 13

Manufacturing Company Asks For Injunction On Enforcement Of New Law

By TONY S. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—Only legal formalities remained in the path of the 44-hour week "test" case today as it moved toward an early supreme court decision.

Industrial Pennsylvania became alert as Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti conferred with members of the state industrial board, entrusted with administration of the law, over the injunction petition filed by the Holgate Brothers Manufacturing Company, of Kane, Pa.

Upon filing of the bill in equity against Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore and other members of the industrial board, President Judge William M. Hargest of the Dauphin County court granted a rule against the commonwealth to show cause by Dec. 13 why the motion for a restraining order should not be granted.

Important Decisions To Come

Out of today's conference were expected to evolve these three important decisions:

(1) The commonwealth's position in the suit (2) Date upon which Margiotti will petition the high tribunal to assume original jurisdiction, and (3) whether the attorney general will personally defend the hours limitation law.

Because Margiotti has stated frequently that in his opinion the act was "probably unconstitutional," many observers believed he would not participate in the proceedings.

Margiotti, it was learned, advised

United States Watches Moves On Proposal To Return German Colonies

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—This government is watching the British-French conversations with the Hitler government over proposed return of colonies lost to Germany by the Versailles treaty, and will insist on being consulted on any action contemplated.

International News Service is able to disclose today that the American government regards its approval as essential to the validity of any change in the governing power over mandated territories.

Great Britain, it was learned, is keeping the United States informed over the conversations recently held between Lord Halifax and Chancellor Hitler and the subsequent London conference between British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Camille Chautemps and Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos.

The state department declined to permit Norman Davis, America's roving ambassador and chief delegate to the nine-power conference at Brussels, to attend the Anglo-French meeting in London for reasons of policy, but this indicates no lack of interest in a possible general settlement which would guarantee the peace of Europe. Because of the criticism it probably would have aroused in congress if Davis had gone to London following the break up of the Brussels conference it was deemed wise to keep Davis away from London.

The United States has advised Britain fully of its position on mandated colonies.

U. S. Steel Will Center Activity At Pittsburgh

Sales, Purchase, And Labor Relations Departments To Go To Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Headquarters of United States Steel Corporation here was the scene of more than usual activity today as preparations were begun for transfer of all sales, purchases and labor relations matters to Pittsburgh.

Decision to centralize all but administrative and financial departments in the steel producing area with Benjamin F. Fairless as head of a management corporation was announced by Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board.

The United States Steel Corporation of Delaware, organized in 1933 as wholly owned subsidiary of U. S. Steel of New Jersey, will function as the management unit and Fairless, president of Carnegie-Illinois Steel, will take charge on January 1 when the transfer is completed.

The Delaware corporation will have no holdings and own no securities and will function entirely as management and coordinating agency for subsidiaries of the parent corporation through contractural arrangements.

Various aspects of the move have been contemplated since 1929, Taylor revealed.

"This plan when made effective will conclude the several major basic factors in the plants for the readjustment of the corporation's principal affairs for the present," he added.

Japanese Make Final Drive To Enter Nanking

Terrific Offensive Is Unleashed Against Beleaguered Capital By Japs

TOKYO REPORTS CITY GATES HELD

Chinese Apparently Reject Ultimatum To Surrender City Without Resistance

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—Through a raging wall of fire erected by torches of frantic Chinese defenders, Japanese troops late tonight smashed through one gate of Nanking and occupied a part of the capital.

With Nippon's hosts now controlling all gates leading into the symbol of the "new China," its 300,000 desperate fighting men were given only slightly more than 12 hours—until noon tomorrow—to surrender.

The alternative in a grim ultimatum delivered by Lt.-Gen. Iwane Matsui, Japanese commander, was complete destruction of the city, former home of 1,000,000.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—Japanese troops suddenly launched a terrific offensive against beleaguered Nanking today, but reliable advices from the battle front indicated stubborn Chinese defenders of the capital had turned back the first waves of attackers.

The assault was begun shortly after Lt-Gen. Iwane Matsui, Japanese commander here, issued an ultimatum giving Nanking until noon tomorrow to surrender peacefully to the Japanese forces swarming about its walls.

A letter advising quiet capitulation of Nanking was dropped at noon on the Chinese garrison headquarters there by a Japanese plane. The attack, starting so soon afterward, indicated the ultimatum had been rejected by the Chinese.

While the battle raged around the outer walls of the city that symbolizes the "new China", Japanese military authorities here announced that Wuhu, some 50 miles south of Nanking, had been occupied at 5 p. m., by a Nipponese column driving south.

Chinese Planes In Attack.

Shortly before 6 p. m., a squadron of Chinese airplanes staged a brief raid against Shanghai. Japanese warships in the Whangpoo river, including the flagship Idzumo, hurled anti-aircraft shells after the attacking planes, driving them off and startling the city.

As they read latest official dispatches of the battle for Nanking, Japanese authorities announced

This belligerent statement that China will fight on against Nippon's overpowering hosts came today from Ambassador Quo Tai-Chi, Chinese envoy to London, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

While Japanese troops pounded at the gates of China's capital, the ambassador said:

"On the contrary, the fall of Nanking will inspire the Chinese people to fight more vigorously to maintain their independence and oust the invader.

Holiday Clemency Pleas To Be Made

Many Seeking State Pardons

Approximately 140 Cases To Come Before Board On December 15-16

CHRISTMAS FREEDOM HOPE OF PRISONERS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—One appeal for escape from the electric chair and two other clemency applications, familiar by repetition to both public and prosecutors, were listed among 140 for hearing December 15 and 16 before the State Pardon Board.

Walter Strantz, of Mt. Carmel, convicted of first-degree murder in the slaying of Earl E. Rowe, Mt. Carmel councilman and taproom proprietor, was the condemned man. He and Joseph Yorcavage went on a "killing spree" last April 9 in which Mrs. Catherine Yorcavage, estranged wife of the one man, and Rowe were killed and three others wounded. Police killed Yorcavage himself in capturing Strantz.

Outstanding Cases

Two other cases outstanding on the list were the appeals of John Curry, 23, one of three York county youths convicted of the "hex" slaying of Nelson Rehmeyer in 1928, and of Sam Pallas, alias Paluszynski, serving eight to 25 years for his part in the futile jail-break of his notorious brother, Paul Jawarski, in 1927.

Curry's appeal already has been rejected once, his two-co-defendants in the nine-year-old murder sensation also having been turned down. John H. Blymire, serving a life sentence, and Wilbert G. Hess, serving 10 to 20 years for second degree murder, were convicted with Curry of killing Rehmeyer for a lock of his hair and a book they credited with "hex" charms.

Pallas' appeal is his seventh before the pardon board. He was convicted of smuggling revolvers into the Allegheny county jail, thus aiding Jawarski and John Vasbinder to blast their way out. Recaptured, Jawarski was executed, marking the breakup of the western Pennsylvania "Flathead Gang."

PARIS POLICE SAY MAN CONFESSES SLAYING DANCER

statement declaring Weidmann had attacked Miss De Koven while holding her overnight and also permitted an unidentified friend who was with him to do so.

Carried $500 In Checks

When Miss De Koven disappeared from the pension where she had been staying with her aunt, Miss Ida Sackheim of New York, she had with her $500 in Traveler's checks.

The aunt previously told police that when the checks were obtained at the offices of the American Express Company, a mysterious blond German stranger approached and offered his services to the two women on a projected tour to the south of France.

Miss Sackheim and Miss De Koven were impressed by the stranger's "charm" and made an engagement with him. If Weidmann's story is substantiated, he is expected to be shown to have been the stranger of that fateful day.

Self-Confessed "Bluebeard"

In the course of his long and rambling confession, Weidmann was said to have admitted killing four other men for profit. Police were immediately sent to dig up the garden of his villa "La Voulzie" at St. Cloud.

It was here that he said he buried the body of the missing dancer.

The self-confessed "Bluebeard" said that when he took Miss De Koven to his villa, another man, whose name police withheld, was there also.

"We held her there overnight," he was quoted as saying, "and the next morning I drank milk with her.

"Then I strangled her with my hands. I wanted that money."

Several of Miss De Koven's checks, with her signature forged, turned up after her disappearance.

Weidmann's confession of mass murder, and particularly that of the slaying of Miss De Koven, came as a complete surprise.

Report China Seeking Peace

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Dec. 9.—China has begun—and Japan has rejected—peace moves, it was semi-officially reported tonight.

"Japan must carry on the crusade even after occupation of Nanking," a government spokesman said.

China launched the peace movement through various third powers as intermediaries, it was stated.

The Japanese government, however, holds that all Chinese truce gestures must be disregarded "until and unless China manifests sincere intentions of cooperating with Japan in furtherance of the cause of peace in East Asia."

The humming bird is found only in the western hemisphere.

JAPANESE MAKE FINAL DRIVE TO ENTER NANKING

they expected the capital to fall within 24 hours. They said all Japanese forces in the Nanking area had reached the outer walls before the latest assault began.

Graphic descriptions of conditions within Nanking trickled into Shanghai as the day wore on. Inside the besieged capital the sputter of machine guns and boom of field guns mingled with the explosions of bombs as Japanese planes relentlessly attacked the Chinese defense positions.

All during the fighting a stream of wounded Chinese troops, many near death, moved painfully into the sanctuary of inner Nanking from the battle zone.

Fires Continue.

Chinese troops, armed with gasoline and explosives, throughout the day continued to destroy buildings and houses in Nanking—pursuing the Chinese policy of "scorching the earth" before giving it up to the Japanese.

Also the Chinese meant to leave nothing standing behind which advancing Japanese troops might take shelter.

As night fell, Nanking was again ringed with flames and covered with a dense, eerie pall of smoke.

The entire water front district of nearby Hsiakwan also was sacrificed to flames for the same purposes. Chinese soldiers put the torch to even the flimsiest homes, while their former occupants watched mournfully.

The next step in the Japanese attack appeared to be a forthcoming paralyzing naval bombardment of Nanking.

Claim Japs Hold Gates.

Tokyo, Dec. 9.—Japanese forces besieging Nanking have seized control of all gates through the city's walls and occupied one portion of the capital, according to press reports here today.

The correspondent of the Nichi Nichi said the vicinity of the Hungwumen gate at the extreme southeast corner of the wall had been taken. Approximately 1,700 Chinese defenders in this area were reported considering Japanese Commander Iwane Matsui's advice to surrender to save themselves from annihilation and the city from destruction.

Japanese officials here predicted the city would fall shortly, in spite of a communique issued by military headquarters at Nanking which stated 300,000 men were still defending the city and were certain to hold out "for at least a week".

One Japanese column concentrated on the Chungsan gate. A five-hour artillery duel was climaxed by Japanese occupation of the Niushan fort, situated on a suburban hill overlooking the city.

Closing of the gates by the Nipponese prevented wounded Chinese from being taken into the city and also barred further egress by refugees, Tokyo newspapers said.

Reports here stated the Chinese were making a heroic defense, blocking roads with ramparts fashioned of furniture, sandbags and stones mounted with machine-guns.

SCHOOL BOARD IS UPHELD IN TEACHER CASE

no longer needed, but at the conclusion of his term the board entered into another contract on May 5 to teach the 1937-'38 term. In the meantime the new teachers' tenure act had become operative on April 6, 1937.

In June Kiebler received word through the mail that his contract had been voided but stating that he was entitled to a hearing. The board preferred charges of incompetency, in that he had failed to maintain proper dicipline, had been negligent in keeping a weight chart as required by the Health Department, had used ungrammatical language in the presence of his pupils, and had failed to bring the 7th and 8th grade pupils up to the standards of other schools.

Hearing Is Held

At the hearing the principal of the school and the County Superintendent, John C. Syling were the principal witnesses. After hearing their testimony the board upheld their former action in declaring the contract void. Kiebler then appealed to court, basing his appeal largely on the teachers' tenure act. No testimony was taken in court but by agreement of counsel the facts were presented in arguments.

In his opinion Judge Chambers holds that when the tenure act came into force it was mandatory upon the school board to sign a contract, but in his opinion this did not prevent the board from preferring charges which, after being sustained by testimony, did not prevent the board from voiding the contract. The act, according to the court does not compel a board to continue a teacher in office, if it is shown that he fails to meet the requirements.

EARLY DECISION ON 44-HOUR WEEK IS NOW EXPECTED

administration leaders to institute a test case of their own prior to Dec. 1, the effective date, to establish the law's constitutional status. Spokesmen in the justice department maintain the hours bill was never presented there in its entirety before the legislature finally enacted it.

Asks Law Be Declared Illegal

Instituted in the name of James E. Henretta, president of the Holgate Company, the action was presented by a representative of Sterling G. McNees, former president of the State Bar Association, and requested the law be declared illegal because:

It does not constitute a proper exercise of police power.

It is an unlawful attempt to delegate legislative power to the department of labor and industry and the industrial board.

Its enforcement will deprive the plaintiffs of their liberty and process of law and just compensation.

It impairs the obligation of the contracts between the company and its employes.

Meanwhile, employes of 1,500,000 Pennsylvania workers bided their time pending the anticipated air-clearing decision. Under a ruling of the industrial board, the employers have until Jan. 3, 1938, to comply with the provisions of the act.

The Holgate Brothers Company is a native Pennsylvania wood specialties concern established over 150 years ago. It is said to be the largest brush handle manufacturing plant in the world.

PLAN SKATING POND ON BOYLES FIELD

crew is putting the finishing touches to the hurriedly-constructed rink covering a plot about 200x75 feet in size.

Snow was piled high about the area to wall in the water. Then it was soaked with water to create an ice-like backing for the basin water.

Experiment, Matthews Says

"It's an experiment, but we hope it works," commented J. L. Matthews, superintendent of the water firm, who was supervising the work along with S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings, grounds and equipment for the school system.

"This is the first try we've made on an outdoor rink," Matthews continued. "It may be in shape for skating tonight—and it may not. Everything depends on the success we have in getting a skating surface. The water will be deep enough to make good skating."

The fire department provided hose for the field's flooding. Water was taken from a hydrant at Laurel boulevard and Logan street.

Kennedy May Be Ambassador To Great Britain

BULLETIN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Sources customarily close to diplomatic circles and the state department, whispered word today that Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the U. S. Maritime Commission, was being offered the post of American ambassador to Great Britain.

Robert Worth Bingham, the Louisville publisher who now represents this nation at the court of St. James, is known to be anxious to retire. At the moment, he is in Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore undergoing treatment.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the maritime commission, and ace trouble-shooter for the New Deal, will accept the post as ambassador to Great Britain, it was learned today as the White House and state department continued their silence over the appointment.

He probably will leave for his new post early in January.

Clearfield Plans Street Improvements

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Dec. 9.—Borough councilmen today set in motion plans for a sweeping program of street improvement to be carried out with the aid of federal funds.

The action was taken following criticisms from citizens who felt that Clearfield has not taken full advantage of the flow of federal funds for municipal improvement. The plan provides for the paving of blocks in 19 streets and six alleys, and the building of a lateral intercepting sewer on both sides of the river.

It takes the light from the sun only eight and one-half minutes to reach the earth.

CRASH IS FATAL TO ONE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9.—A crash between a street car and an automobile today accounted for the death of William Patton, 42. His father-in-law, the Rev. Leonard Hess, 71, who was riding with him in the car, was injured. None of the passengers on the street car was injured.

AUXILIARY AND VETS JOINT INSTALLATION

Especially interesting and impressive was the joint installation meeting conducted in the American Legion Home on Wednesday evening by the Baltimore & Ohio Veterans and auxiliary members. The ceremonies were carried out in an excellent manner by the visiting grand president of the B. & O. auxiliaries, Mrs. O. L. Wallburg of Lima, O. Mrs. H. G. Tetlow, who assisted, shared honors. Both were given a pretty gift by Mrs. J. P. Walter at the close of the evening in behalf of the organizations.

The committee in charge was made up of Mrs. M. P. Olmstead, Mrs. Harry Evans, Mrs. H. L. Fry, Mrs. Fred Ford and Mrs. James Cole. They were assisted by the Veterans committee of four, Roy Irwin, G. H. Wyman, Joseph Paluzak and M. R. Olmstead.

This little cantata has miniature solos, interludes and choruses, and is very interestingly written by Richter. A. Alfred Taylor, director of the chorus, will present three of his own organ compositions, "Vesper Meditation", "Concert Caprice" and "Berceuse".

PEACE FIRST IS AMERICA'S POLICY

IN HIS latest statement of American policy toward the Far Eastern trouble Secretary Hull makes plain the Administration's determination not to be stampeded into unwise and dangerous action.

Two pressure groups are at work. One would have the President invoke the Neutrality Law regardless of consequences. The other urges repeal of the act on the ground that it does not embody real neutrality and that its mere presence on the statute books has already constituted a hindrance to American commerce.

It is true that a re-examination of the Neutrality Act, which was framed primarily with reference to a possible European war, discloses defects which contribute to a weakening of the neutrality principle as applied to the undeclared war between Japan and China, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. This fact may have influenced President Roosevelt in withholding thus far a proclamation of a state of war which would automatically bring the act into effect.

The American public has its own opinion regarding the official statement from Tokyo, cited by Mr. Hull, that "Japan never looks upon the Chinese people as an enemy nor does she harbor any territorial designs." But our Government has gone far enough toward naming Japan as the aggressor. It is not our Government's job to declare war for these actual belligerents because they refrain from such formal pronouncement themselves.

The Neutrality Act, once effective, would make cash sales of war munitions compulsory and ban credits. Mr. Hull points out that current American commercial transactions with Japan and China are on a cash basis.

But the most reassuring remark by Mr. Hull is that his department keeps constantly in mind "the fact that the principal purpose of the Neutrality Act is to keep the United States out of war." No one knows just how the act itself would work out. But the policy of peace first and foremost should have the solid support of the American people.

THE PROUD LEVIATHAN DOOMED

Career of the Leviathan as a passenger-carrying ocean liner was ended three years ago when she was tied up to rust at a Hoboken pier. Her sale for $800,000 for scrap, now confirmed, has been predicted all along, although there have been rumors that temporary use as a floating hotel, a training ship, even a marine gambling establishment, might defer her inevitable doom. Now 23 years old, the German-built liner long ago began to cost too much to operate at a profit. Newer, faster, more modern liners are now queens of the seas; presently they, too, will yield to inventive progress

Appropriately enough, the 907-foot Leviathan will make her last voyage under her own power to England, there to be broken up. There may be consolation in the fact that Japan will not get the material for munitions, although the thick iron plates and other metal parts no doubt will be cast into British guns and shells.

Her beginning and a few years of her later life were quite different from the military use to which she was put during the World War and her looming military destiny. Doubtless those survivors of the 200,000 American soldiers who crossed on her between New York and France will join others in regret that her metal will be used for more wars.

KING CANUTE AND THE COLONEL

King Canute failed in his attempt to hold back the sea. He failed because he was trying to overcome a law of nature.

Returning from his self-imposed exile, Colonel Lindbergh says: "I do not want any publicity at all." The Colonel, like the King, will fail to get what he wants, and for a number of very good reasons.

As the world's premier aviator, as a young man who has risen from a humble position to one of wealth and prominence, and as a citizen who has caught the fancy of people everywhere, Colonel Lindbergh will get publicity, and lots of it, as long as he lives.

And, for that matter, why should the Colonel resent this fact? His flight from New York to Paris was made for the purpose of procuring fame, wealth and glory. Having received these things from an admiring world, he might be expected to satisfy the world's natural appetite for hero worship

By and large, newspapermen are not prying vultures. As a rule they maintain decent ethical standards in their quest for newsworthy items. The just grievances of Colonel Lindbergh have been few and far between. Nor have they been representative of ordinary journalistic procedure.

If Colonel Lindbergh were as friendly toward the press as the press has been toward the Colonel, there would be little if any basis for criticism on the part of anyone.

No man can become famous overnight without attracting public attention. When such fame is obtained its undesirable aspects are only emphasized by an attitude of hostility and secretiveness. Colonel Lindbergh would do well to recognize this simple fact and stop trying to hold back the waves of publicity that are bound to remain beyond his control.

EDUCATION WITH MEALS

There is no finer opportunity for good education than that afforded at the meal where the family eat leisurely and parents talk concerning things of interest to the growing child, and where the child shares freely in this conversation.

Let me state a few facts which might be presented to the family group at dinner:

Abe Lincoln did not die poor. He left an estate valued at $110,295. George Washington left over half a million—$530,000. Theodore Roosevelt was almost a millionaire. He left $811,000.

The presidents of the United States have lived, on the average, 68 years.

An airship can fly more than 400 miles an hour. The speed record was made Oct. 23, 1934, by Francisco Agello, of Italy—440 miles an hour. Some fast trains can now run 120 miles an hour.

There are about twice as many widows as widowers in the United States; more bachelors than spinsters.

Twenty per cent of all crime in this country is committed by youth not old enough to vote.

Out of every thousand persons over ten years of age, in our nation, 43 cannot read and write in any language. They are illiterate.

Nearly one-tenth of all the people of the United States are under five years of age. About one-third are under eighteen. About one-sixth are over fifty.

When the boys and girls now going to school are fifty years of age, there will be many more people fifty years of age and many fewer under eighteen than there are today. But the number of people over 85 years of age will be about the same.

Seeing Stars

The naked eye can see about 6,000 stars. With a field glass we can see about 50,000. With a good telescope, hundreds of thousands.

There are about a million public school teachers in the United States; about five times as many women teachers as men teachers.

About 4,000,000 school children that are enrolled at school are absent every day. Nearly 6,000,000 children between five and seventeen don't go to school at all.

In 1924 about 25 times as many immigrants came to the United States as the number who came in 1934. In 1924, 706,896 came. In 1934, 29,470 came.

In all the world there are about 2,250,000,000 people.

An American cow, in 1935, produced 4,169 pounds of milk a year. In 1924, it was only 3,784 pounds per cow. A pound is about a pint.

Abe Lincoln was Dr. Lincoln; so was George Washington Dr. Washington. Harvard university gave an LL.D. to George Washington in 1776. Yale, in 1781. Abe Lincoln was honored with an LL.D. by Columbia university in 1861, and by Princeton in 1864.

LOOKING FOR A TOE-HOLD

I picked him up on the road and took him a few miles on his way—a friendly fellow who had no money but had heard there was a job in the town where I was going.

He said he had two trades. He was a barber and a housepainter. But for the last month or two he'd been working in a mine until it closed down. Sometimes he got a few days barbering, sometimes he'd pick up a few days painting, but he hadn't had a steady job for a couple of years. He talked and I listened.

It seems that up to six or seven years ago he'd been doing fine. He had a little barber shop in a small town and owned property worth $10,000. He was also married to an extravagant woman. "Every dollar I earned," he said, "came in the the front door and right out the back. So I kept slipping further and further behind. I warned her that when I was broke I'd walk right out and never come back. But it didn't do any good. I wasn't any more foolish than she was, but I did go broke and lost the house and I did walk out and she got a divorce.

After a while he spoke of his wife and I said, "I thought you got a divorce." He explained that this was a second wife. And it was a funny thing, while he was going good he had a thoughtless, selfish, extravagant woman for a wife and now that he had no luck at all and couldn't seem to get a toe-hold anywhere he had a wife who was one of the finest women in the world, understanding and hard working, and saving and a great help. She was with her family in Fresno right then, and if she said to him, "Well, George, we don't seem to be able to make a go of it, let's call it quits"—he coudn't blame her a bit. Because she surely did have a right to a better husband than he'd turned out to be. Didn't he think so? I said perhaps he was right, but maybe SHE had had experience, too, with a husband who could make a living but wasn't a decent human being. Maybe she figured it was better to have a husband like him than a husband who wasn't a man at all.

He grinned and said he hoped that's the way it was. Because he surely was trying to do something for himself and that second wife of his.....But here was the town he was heading for, so we shook hands and said good-bye and I never did see him again....But I'm hoping he finally got that toe-hold on life he was looking for.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:35. Sun rises tomorrow 7:10.

It's a good thing there is a deer hunting season once a year, else we wouldn't know how many straight shooters there are in our midst.

Has the Christmas spirit "gotten you" yet? That good old glorious feeling that comes so seldom, just once a year—has it thrilled your spine with glad little shivers yet? Better get out of your old "most of the year" rut and by coming in contact with some really Christmasy Christmas merchandise, get that feeling of real honest-to-John pleasure you used to know when you were a kid. Besides getting first choice, and being able to shop leisurely and satisfactorily, the early Christmas shoppers are getting the jump on the "I'll-do-it-laters" because these early birds are getting that Yule-tide cheery aspect.

The United States court of customs has decided that an infant is a child under six years of age. The ruling was made in order that the import duty on baby's clothes might be set. We'll venture there are plenty of mothers who will not agree with this age limit. Some of them even treat their grown up sons and daughters as though they were infants.

Some of these letters to the lovelorn raise some novel questions. For instance, here is one. A young woman writes: "Do you think I should get married? I've always wanted to raise a family, but the man I love simply can't bear children." Too bad.

So long as a man is climbing, he talks to be convincing. After that he talks because he enjoys hearing himself.

It's no wonder the Lindberghs want to stay in Europe. They were scarcely off the boat on their present visit until the camera men and reporters were on their trail. Why can't they be given a rest?

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

Several points, other than the fit and color scheme of a dress, must be considered before any definite decision on it is given. Does the design flatter your figure? Does it accentuate your good points or your bad points? Are your physical proportions near enough to perfection to wear becomingly every kind of design or must you exercise care in your choice of pattern?

In other words, if your proportions are not what they should be, you should choose a pattern that will help to bring them nearer to those of the average woman.

The small woman, especially with too much width should lean toward vertical designs which will carry the eye up and down rather than toward horizontal designs that will carry it from side to side. Horizontal designs should be left to those whose figures can better stand accentuation of width.

The large woman should avoid material with a conspicuous pattern because its use would increase the illusion of width.

Another reminder—if you need every inch of your height, especially your leg-length, do not wear exaggerated short skirts, which will cause you to appear shorter.

The World At A Glance

Impartiality Unpopular Now. Compromise Seen As Surrender. Fear Is Causing Intolerance.

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist

PITY THE ONE who would be impartial these days. Pity the interpreter of trends, the one who tries to look ahead, or who tries to state the case as it is today.

Newspaper writers, columnists are not the only ones. There are the observers on the side of labor and of business, on the side of New Deal and anti-New Deal who give the facts to the partisans. From what these observers say, they become outcasts if they state the exact facts.

The world has become violently partisan. Compromise means surrender, not merely of today's principles, but of the future. The mood is not sweet. There is no thought of working out the solution in calm reasoning. The impartial man has no friends. The impartial nation is treated with contempt.

IS IT FEAR?

It has been said by psychologists that men become intolerent because of fear.

Is it fear that each group has today, from the smallest employer and the smallest organized labor group to the largest divisions of nations, which brings forth these violent clashes?

A friends will dine with an observer or writer, give interesting news, and then of a sudden demand an expose of this or that. The writer requests facts, gets a smattering of them, then proceeds to study the matter through to its bitter end. And it is a bitter end—for not only is the friend lost (for the moment) but both sides will shout invectives if the report gives the actual facts. Invectives are the order of the day, taking the place of calm, contemplative thought.

(I must hasten to add that none of this has occurred to me—yet. But I have listened to many men tell their troubles, men on both sides of the fence.)

We are living through evolutionary times. On one side we have men who refuse to vision that fact; on the other hand, we have men who are seeking too easy a road. At least, that is the way we who talk it over see it.

MORE TOLERANCE?

One wishes that there were more catholicity in reading among the contesting sides.

If employers read labor papers and the "radical" magazines (which seem less violent than the "conservative" magazines), and if labor read the Wall Street Journal (whose writers interpret trends very broadly), the invectives would soften.

It is natural for Wall Street to take fright at even its shadow. It is natural for labor to mistrust "substitute" measures for "the freedom to work."

A TRUTH IN THIS?

Here is a Wall Street Journal item (of the afraid-of-its-shadow kind):

"It is an unorthodox market situation that confronts the investor today, the more dangerous because it has the appearance and form of most any other kind of market.

"It is a great risk to be in stocks and it is a great risk to be out of them because the radical inflation threat is overhanging always, even during periods when stock prices are falling and business is receding. In fact, the threat is even greater when the latter condition is prevailing. . . ."

Now, even though that article is "the afraid of its shadow" kind, it contains a fundamental truth

TAX EVASION.

An advertisement of the Washington Power Co. says: "On October 17, 1933, Mr. David Lilienthal, power director of the Tennessee Valley Authority and a favorite of the present Federal Administration said in his speech delivered at Memphis: 'A public power system should bear the burden of taxes which it would pay if it were privately owned. A public power system should contribute its share of taxes to the general fund.' The correctness of that statement should be beyond controversy."

Unhappily, publicly owned business properties rarely carry any tax burden at all, much less a fair burden. In the State of Washington, for instance, all transportation systems are taxed except those owned by two cities. All electric light and power properties are taxed except those owned by seventeen cities and towns. Most of the water systems are owned by municipalities. Most of the water-front property used for docks, warehouses and simillar purposes is likewise owned by cities of port districts and is not on the tax rolls.

In Washington the value of these tax exempt properties is as great as the value of all property in fifteen of its thirty-nine counties. If all this tax exempt business property were put on the tax rolls, general property taxes could be reduced at least nine per cent.

A similar situation exists in the other States of the Union. And if present political plans mature, a tremendous amount of other property will be taken off the tax rolls, at the expense of all remaining taxpayers. For example, the proposal to create seven additional TVA's throughout the country would involve the expenditure of billions of public dollars. In states effected, the new regional electric authorities would take over property, which is now privately owned and make it completely or largely tax exempt. The private utilities in the areas would be wholly or partly forced out of business, thus limiting or eventually eliminating their contributions to public treasuries. The already tremendous weight of taxation which acts as a drag on industrial expansion, home building and the investment of capital in private enterprise, would vastly increase.

Tax evasion by government is infinitely more serious than tax evasion by individuals. To quote the Washington Water Power Co. once more, "This tax evasion can be stopped if and when the people understand this injustice and demand that it be stopped."

TODAY Is The Day

THURSDAY, DEC. 9.

Once Upon Dec. 9th—In this day when divorce and freedom of the press are so much discussed, it is timely to recall that the latter, in so far as English-speaking nations are concerned, had its outgrowth of the former.

When John Milton, who was born 329 years ago today, was 35, he was arrested for publishing a pamphlet appealing for public approval of his right to divorce the 17 year-old wife who had deserted him. The pamphlet had not been licensed as provided by law, and also its purpose was deemed contrary to public welfare.

Milton, utilizing to the utmost the talent that made him third only to Shakespeare, and Balzac in Occidental literature, wrote another pamphlet, a plea for freedom of the press so eloquent and persuasive that it broke up licensing and censorship of the press in England and its colonies. That plea, entitled Aeropagetica, is worth reading today, too.

After Milton had won his case, he became reconciled to his estranged wife. They parted again, however. They couldn't get along because she liked dances and parties and he didn't. She and the

Grand Jury Favors Boyles Lot Buying At Proper Price

Also Recommends Erection Of Necessary Addition To The Court House

In presentments made by the grand jury at the conclusion of their work Wednesday evening, it was recommended that the county commissioners purchase the Boyles property, adjoining the court house, provided that they could get it at a satisfactory price.

Recommendations of a similar nature have been made by former grand juries, but it seems that no actual negotiations have been taken up, and no definite price has ever been obtained.

There is considerable difference of opinion regarding the value of the property.

The grand jury also recommended the erection of such an addition to the court house as may be necessary to furnish additional room, particularly for the offices on the first floor.

Plans for such an addition have been prepared by Architect H. M. Wirsing, but they have not yet been approved by the court.

The matter is being discussed this afternoon by Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham, Judge-elect Thomas W. Dickey and Architect Wirsing.

The grand jury further complimented Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard on the orderly condition of the sheriff's home and the county jail.

Authorize Funds For Flood Control Along Ohio Valley

Allotment Of $24,877,000 Is Authorized By Action Of President Roosevelt

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Roosevelt today authorized allotment of $24,877,000 for a vast flood control program in the Ohio river valley.

The presidential authorization provides for construction of levees, flood walls and drainage structures for 15 communities in the Ohio river valley.

Of this sum, the war department estimated that $5,000,000 will be expended prior to June 30, 1938. The program will provide jobs for thousands.

second of his three wives were dead before the poet, then blind and 57, composed his masterpiece and one of the greatest of all literary works—Paradise Lost. First publication brought him the sum of five pounds! He had made the press so free that his work was widely pirated and he received no further royalities.

It is harder to read today than Aeropagetica, one reason being the sentences of 300 and more words one finds in it. One surmises that if Milton had not been blind, and had not had to depend upon daughters with whom he constantly quarreled to be his amanuensises those sentences would have been shorter and Paradise Lost as easy to read as it is great in concept and beauty.

Milton's small royalities do not men he was a genius who had to starve. He was the son of a wealthy man.

On Other Dec. 9ths—1901—Mrs. L. Stanford, widow of the founder, gave Stanford University $30,000,000 Years before, Senator Leland Stanford and his wife had visited Harvard University. "How much would it cost to duplicate this?" Stanford who never went to college, asked President Eliot. The startled Eliot thought a moment, guessed $50,000,000. That was the total sum the two Stanfords gave to perpetuate the name of their son in a university located on their estate, Palo Alto, 28 miles from San Francisco.

1907—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., photoplay actor, was born. Real name of his family is Ullman. Other birthdays today: Lucius Beebe, b. 1902, columnist and professional gourmet; Bertrand H. Snell, b. 1870, New York Congressman who is Republican leader in the House.

25 Years Ago Today—Great Britain, which had seized the Suez Canal and ran it as it pleased, made a formal protest against the U. S., which had built the Panama Canal with its own money, exempting U. S. vessels in the coast-wise trade, from canal tolls. (It got what it wanted, too.)

Alas, alas.

Sells Soap For Auto Defrosting

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9—A windshield "defroster" salesman whose product it turned out, was soap which "frosted" windshields was under arrest here today.

Motorists who bought the compound Allison DeGenero, 25 of Cincinnati, sold them, found instead of freeing their windshields from frost, it formed a thick coating they could not see through.

Police investigating said DeGenero sold pieces of soap, at 50 cents each which he cut up from a five-cent bar of soap. They estimated he got 64 pieces of "defrosing material" from one cake.

Bitter-End War Against C.I.O. Is Threat Of Green

Peace In Labor Controversy Must Come Quickly To Prevent Merciless Battle

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 9—Merciless, bitter-end war against CIO unless peace comes quickly in the current skirmish was threatened today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

"Unless settlement is soon reached, the A. F. of L. will arm its forces and turn them loose against this raiding organization," asserted Green. He was among speakers at the National Educational conference of the Brotherhood of Railway and steamship clerks.

"Lots of people think a settlement can't be reached because some one has designs on dictating the policy of the American Labor movement and I sometimes think this too," he said.

Reviewing proposal of CIO that they come into a A. F. of L., but preserve their own divisions, Green asserted.

"We will never agree to such a proposal. We are not going to let anyone into our house during this labor war. It is better as it is now —at least we know who our enemies are."

He closed with the comment:

"He or she who launches a movement which divides the house of labor is an enemy of labor."

New Financial Program Launched By G.O.P. Of State

Plan Of Raising Funds For Support Of Party In State Is Agreed Upon

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—Having "junked" the reorganization suggestions of the Crusaders' organization, the state Republican party today launched its new financial program to "give the party back to the people."

At a meeting of the county chairmen and vice chairmen, a definite and uniform plan of raising campaign funds among the rank and file of the party was adopted unanimously.

Aimed at the elimination of "financial dictatorships", precipitated through the huge individual contributions of a few wealthy party members, the plan was submitted to the G. O. P. leaders by G. Edward Green, state chairman.

The new financing program was in line with one now in use by the Republican national committee. Carlton G. Ketchum, a member of the national body, told the chairmen his committee has been soliciting funds in small sums in several states for the past two years.

He suggested the national plan under which donors are asked to sign a pledge card be followed.

Consolidation Of Banks Announced

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 9.—Consolidation of the Mahoning National Bank and the Mahoning Savings & Trust company has been announced by John R. Rowland, president of both institutions.

The new bank will operate under the name of Mahoning National Bank, with deposits of more than $14,000,000 and resources of more than $16,000,000, it was announced.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

SHENANGO GIRL RESERVES

One of the most beautiful of recognition services was held Wednesday morning by the Shenango Girl Reserves in the auditorium of the Shenango high school.

Led into a darkened room by Dorothy Black, president, the Girl Reserves formed a circle illuminated by light flickering from each girl's small candle. It stood on a little blue triangle card which symbolized the three emphases of a Girl Reserve's program, spirit, mind and body. The new members then formed a circle of unlit candles within the larger circle. To attain unity in the group, all joined in singing "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," after which Dorothy Black gave the purpose of the ceremonial. She also spoke of the democracy of Girl Reserves clubs and of how Girl Reserves seek a way of living together, a way in which they learn from one another, in work and play together. Talks were given by other girls in the club about the improvement of a girl's health, the development and improvement of a girl's personality, the growth of a radiant spirit.

The vice president presented the new members and talks were given by Edna Alexander, Ruth Bogle, Marian Hay, Marjorie Houk, Charlotte Lutz and Iretta Saeson.

Following the president's' welcome,, the candles of the new members were lit while "This Little Light of Mine" was sung by Marian Black, Alberta Henderson, Marjorie Houk, Helen Joki, and Anna Mae McCandless.

After the new girls stepped back to form one large circle with the older members, Miss Margaret Cowmeadow welcomed the new members into the club and added some remarks, remarks that would inspire all present to be sincere Girl Reserves. Miss Vera Barker offered a prayer for Girl Reserves and Miss Frances Boozer, an adviser for the club, too, was of valuable assistance in the ceremonial presentation.

After the ceremonial Dorothy Shaffer told about the Christmas party which all "Y. W." clubs will unite in giving to 100 children on December 19. For this event the Girl Reserve clubs will furnish home made candy, of which Shenango Girl Reserves will make 15 pounds. Dorothy Shaffer and Bette Waddington are the leaders in their club for this project.

FRANKLIN GIRL RESERVES

Monday afternoon at 3:30 the Ben Franklin Girl Reserves met in the cafeteria of the school with their advisers, Miss Margaret Shaffer and Miss Ruth Sample.

Doris Lutz, president, called the meeting to order and the minutes were read by Marjorie Griffiths. A very splendid devotional service was presented when girls told what the Girl Reserve Code meant to each one of them, each girl interpreting a single line of the code. The girls taking part were Celestine Cwynar, Annabelle Emery, Margaret Falls, Marian George, Josephine Grycrk, Anna Lombardo, Mary Matricardi, Julia Palkovitch, Letitia Richards, Betty Wright and Alice Jean Young.

When a girl becomes a Girl Reserve she accepts the Girl Reserve Code as a part of her philosophy of living and as a goal towards which she will strive.

For the Christmas party given at the "Y" for 100 children on December 19, all Girl Reserve clubs will make home made candy. The Ben Franklin girls will make 10 pounds and the club leaders for this project are Julia Palkovitch and Nettie Rosenberg.

WASHINGTON RESERVES

An interesting slant on "Europe" was given by Miss Jane Hawkins on Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the George Washington Girl Reserve club conducted in the junior high school building.

The speaker, Miss Hawkins, was introduced by Miss Gladys Brown. She told of a trip made to Europe last summer, dwelling principally upon her tour of Italy. She told of the cathedrals of Florence, the Florentine leather crafts and many descriptive details and comparisons of great interest to her listeners.

Ruth Collins conducted the devotions, at the opening of the meeting. Georgiana Truby gave the secretarial report and Gladys Brown told of the coming Y. W. C. A. Christmas party.

The members who need help on their pocketbook project may stop at the Y. W. C. A. on Saturday morning, Miss Dorothy Stewart, Girl Reserve secretary, announces.

Mrs. Lena Gilmore Replaced On WPA Hillsville Project

Announcement was made today in the office of the Works Progress Administration that Mrs. Lena Gilmore of Hillsville had been removed as the supervisor of the sewing project there and had been replaced by Mrs. Jennie Galena. The quarters of the sewing project have been moved to the Italian-American club.

Mrs. Gilmore has been the supervisor for the past two years. At the present time there are eighteen women employed on the project.

BUTLER COUNTY HOME CROWDED

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 9.—Suggestions that Butler county commissioners study and take steps to correct crowded conditions in the Butler County Home had been made today by the December grand jury.

Fire drills and employment of a graduate nurse to spend her entire time with the inmates of the home were also suggested.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Weigh Chances Of La Guardia

Republican Mantle Is Worn But Lightly By New York's Mayor

JOINS UP WITH LABOR PARTY

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's recent formal affiliation of himself with the newly-organized and as yet rather infantile American Labor party is interpreted by politicians in Washington as the New Yorker's first step toward a leadership of national proportions in the near future—probably in 1940.

La Guardia's standing as a Republican never has amounted to much.

Still, if he has presidential ambitions, even a nominal G. O. P. label, worn by him too long, could not but embarrass him almost impossibly. For, of course, a Republican indorsement of his candidacy for any but strictly local office would be unimaginable. Nor is he a conceivable Democratic nominee.

In short, he is not a Republican or a Democrat in the orthodox sense of either designation . Neither is he a Socialist, though he served in congress as one. He does not quite fit into the New Deal, either. He has been friendly to some of the New Deal's objectives, but its course has been too erratically steered to suit him. He has a clean-cut politico-economic philosophy, with no wobbling such as the New Deal's. For example, Rooseveltianism avowedly is experimental. The mayor has a definite plan. Within New York City's limits he has not had a chance to reveal more than one per cent of it, but it is of country-wide calibre. I know it, from chats I had with him when he was a congressman here.

NEEDS OWN PARTY

The "Little Flower" needs, in short, a party of his own—just as the first Senator Robert M. La Follette did in 1924.

I do not know that La Guardia is a stronger, abler man than the elder La Follette was, but he is at least a fair match for the latter, and maybe the time is riper for him than it was for the Wisconsin senator, 13 or 14 years ago.

Old-fashioned politicians regard him wtih a modicum of respectful apprehension, anyway.

WHITHER?

What politicians would like to learn is this:

Are the two old, major parties in process of merging and re-dividing?—under the same old names?—but as new parties?"—a liberal Democratic one and a conservative Republican one?

Or are they going to split into two new parties, with at least one of them under a new name and the other one evaporating, as the ancient Whigs evaporated once on a time?

Or are we about to have, henceforward, three major parties?—Republicans, so-called; Democrats, so-called; and a third major group, called, say, the American Labor party?—such a party as the La Follette-ites tried to (and failed to) establish, as Progressives, in 1924?

LA GUARDIA'S CHANCE

With two new parties under thee old names La Guardia certainly could not get a presidential nomination. The old names would kill him politically.

With at least one new party, under a new name, the radically new folk might choose him as their standard bearer.

But a third group, such as the American Labor party, might name him very reasonably.

WOULD THIS OCCUR?

Then what?—in the last named of these three cases?

The elder Senator La Follette, as previously remarked, tried it and was licked.

But, as also previously remarked, perhaps times are different now from what they were then.

About the best La Guardia (or someone else) could count on would be a triangular tie, throwing the decision into the house of representatives.

I thought that this might occur in 1924. It can occur yet.

It would be a huge boost for independence to accomplish that much. It would be governmentally disorganizing, too. Imagine the shaky position of a president who got into office by only a plurality (not a majority) vote!

It is common in Europe, but it would be hades here.

CLASHING INTERESTS

The trquble with this country is:

It is half industrial and half agricultural.

And industry's and agricultural interests conflict. England can have a predominantly labor party; it has not any agriculture to mention. In England there is a labor party, in a majority at times. Here it is impossible. It has been demonstrated. The wage-hour bill?—labor's pet? Agriculture fights it. The farm bills?—labor fights them.

They clash—and naturally.

La Guardia has got to do some guessing to get them together.

WILL THIS COUNT?

The "Little Flower's" half-Italian parentage counts against him.

It hints at Mussolini-ism.

If he wants to be an all-around leader he needs to clarify.

New York Is Very Tolerant

Metropolis Puts Up With Many Capers Cut By Visitors To City

LAPEL FLOWER BREATHES SUCCESS

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—With the possible exception of Paris, no city is more tolerant of high-jinking visitors than New York. This municipal affability was emphasized during the capering of the Legionnaires last Fall. The boys fairly tore the town apart to see what made it tick.

O. O. McIntyre

Broadway is especially attuned to agreeable frolic, notably when the lights are on. Skylarking that would bring the Black Maria elsewhere does not even inspire a policeman's shush. On nights of the big football games the average citizen simply takes to the hills.

Even the sedate home-folks now and then have their moments. Only a few weeks ago in a fashionable dining place a prankish gentleman began to flip bread balls about. In no time everybody joined in. The climax came with a flying filet mignon landing skush on a white shirt front.

The subway rush hour is a test of the metropolitan magnificence in "taking it." These are nothing less than glorified football scrimmages with torn clothes and sometimes skinned shins and black eyes. But there's no anger. Everybody roars away grinning.

Mae Murray is a yesterday star who seems to have a strangle hold on eternal youth. At least 20 years ago she was first of the professional cafe dancers, presaging the coming of the Castles. Even then she was not a wonder kiddie, but a seasoned performer. Today she appears as youthful almost as ever. There is a spring to her walk and her figure is the envy of those who seek to be svelte. Nor has she lost her zest for visiting the cafes, theatres and night clubs.

---

Another girl of yesterday with form divine has managed physically to laugh at the years—I mean Annette Kellerman. She does not hesitate to admit she is deep in the 40's. She was glorifying the bathing beauty before Mack Sennett made it a career. Recently she has been promoting diving exhibitions in Florida. Miss Kellerman is an Australian and, like most aquatic marvels, learned to swim in her babyhood.

---

What is regarded as the smartest men's tailoring establishment in town is on the avenue in the 50's. Paneled in gray satinwood edged with black glass, it is run by four European born brothers who greet their select clientele in morning coat, striped trousers and with lapel flower. Trade is confined almost solely among the foreign diplomats in Washington and New York. There are evening clothes with trappings ranging as high as $500 which gives an idea.

---

A lapel flower is invariably associated in my mind with success. To date, I've never seen such an affectation by a failure. The buttonhole posy is the outward manifestation of the inward glow. Charles M. Schwab rarely leaves home for his office without one. Paul Whiteman would no more think of mounting the rostrum without his boutonnierre than without his baton. Somerset Maugham selects his morning flower from the florists as carefully as he does his entree in the restaurants at night. Now that Jack Dempsey has drawn the curtain on his biff-bang career, he is seldom without a red carnation, so the gesture is without sissiness. Among the lapel flowerists on Park avenue, Guernsey Curran is the most constant. On Broadway it is Arthur Levy, the press-agent. Thorley, the florist, used to be conspicuous because of his ever-present boutonnierre, which of course was something of an ad. But today a walk on the avenue any morning will reveal several to the block.

---

Thingumbobs: Grover Whalen has 15 silk hats . . . Chinatown has an herb doctor who at 76 answers calls on his bicycle . . . The producer Charles Cochran likes a breakfast of fresh figs with double cream and little pig sausage . . . George Bernard Shaw says that after 60 the most interesting part of a newspaper is the obituary column . . . To his friends of the old San Francisco days Major Bowes is "Eddie."

---

Reaction: I never leave a subway express train without an urge to repeat the line credited to Queen Victoria on one historic pilgrimage. Upon stepping from her coach at Charing Cross after her first train ride she cried: "Not so fast next time, Mr. Conductor!"

In Royal Limelight

Lady Anne Cavendish-Bentinck, granddaughter of the Duke and Duchess of Portland, is pictured above. London gossip had it that King Leopold of the Belgians, whose wife was killed in an auto crash in 1935, was to marry her, but latest reports indicate that the British beauty may wed Leopold's brother, Prince Charles.

George Parkkala Tells Of Finland

Former Local Boy Tells Of Joys Of Winter In "Land Of Midnight Sun"

George Parkkala, former local resident, tells of conditions in Finland, the "Land of the Midnight Sun," in a letter to The News.

He states that he has been in Finland since last May, and the lakes that were the fisherman's paradise, are now frozen over solid. Days which were so lengthy in the summer, are now just the opposite. On June 21, he states, the sun rose at 2:57 a.m. and set at 9:46 p.m. On Nov. 28, the day he wrote, the sun rose at 8:56 a.m. and set at 3:21 p.m. In the northern part of the country on the longest day, the sun can be seen the whole night through, but that is not the case in the central part of Finland, where he is located.

Everyone enjoys skiing in Finland, and for a time, he was sort of on the outside of these pleasures because of his inexperience, but he states that he is fast learning.

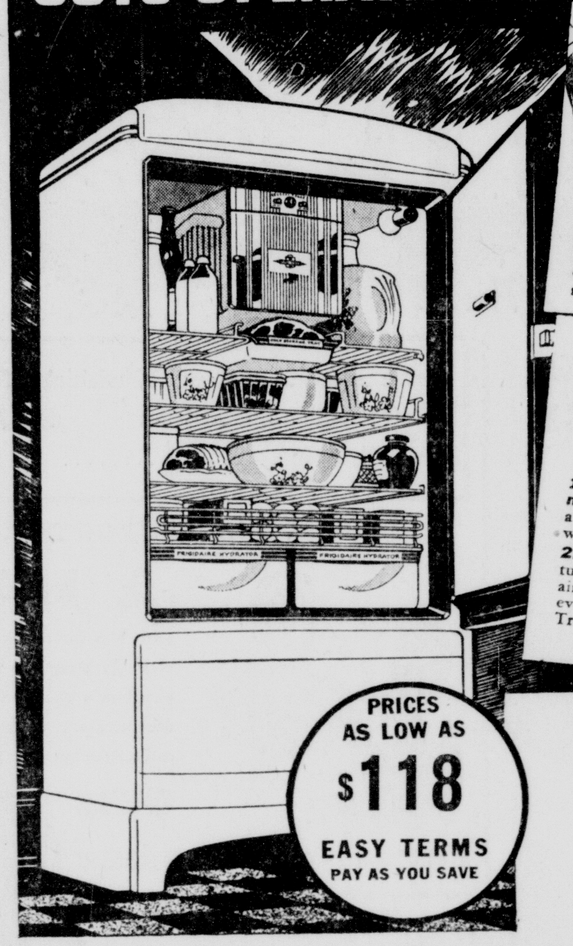

He says he expects to remain in Finland until chances for a young man to secure employment back here have improved. He is working at cutting pulpwood which is made into paper. One is enabled to earn his daily bread, he states.

In closing he wishes all his friends in New Castle the Merriest of Christmases and the Happiest of New Years. His address is Uuraiskyla, Uurainen, Waasan Laani, Finland.

More Information On Highway Plan

Proposal To Change Name Of Ben Franklin Route To Be Considered In Spring

Further information received today by B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor club, is that the effort to establish a "streamline expositions highway" will come before the American Automobile association at the spring meeting.

The new highway will be numbered 32 if the plan goes through, and this number will be carried from New York to San Francisco, both of which cities will hold expositions in 1939.

Should the plan go through both 422 and 224 would be dropped as designation numbers and 32 substituted. Through Lawrence county from Parkstown Corners, 422 and 224 are the same highway.

There is one advantage in the plan, it would seem. Having a transcontinental highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific would simplify cross country travel. Maps of the new highway would show New Castle as an important spot inasmuch as this city is almost midway between New York and Chicago.

Many Articles Found On Cars

Rosary Beads, Over-Shoes, Umbrellas, Miner's Cap Left By Patrons

Compacts, Rosary beads, gloves, overshoes, umbrellas, keys and a miner's cap. These are a few of the articles which have been found by street car operators on local cars, the articles having been left on seats by passengers. Years ago one absent-minded person was so engrossed in either reading a newspaper, perusing advertising signs or worrying, left false-teeth on a seat.

Overshoes, galoshes: in fact; various kind of articles have been left. In many instances owners call at the bus terminal, Y. M. C. A. building for the articles. If such are not claimed within 30 days they are handed back to the car operator who found the articles.

Lives Hermit—Like In River Embankment

Man Refuses Offers Of Aid From Police, Welfare Officers

HAS BEEN LIVING IN HOLE FOR 3 MONTHS

Despite howling wind, a heavy snowstorm and ice-coated thoroughfares, there is one "hermit" here who is vexed because police officers destroyed his "home" which was no more than a hole in the embankment of the Shenango river yesterday and incarcerated the man in the city lock-up. He gave his name as Zacco Demitro, but insofar as his past he is rather vague and his chief desire is permission to return to his "hole in the bank."

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell received complaints of the man having "holed up" for the winter and sent Officers Golis and Allgier to investigate the case.

They reported they had found that Dimitro had dug out a hole in the embankment and then had built a roof from freight car boards. This was covered with tin. Tar paper was placed on the dirt floor or "bedroom."

The hermit had built this "home" three months ago south of a coal yard on the site where the Atlantic furnace formerly stood. He had been seen there by various persons and they feared he would suffer from exposure.

His only means of keeping warm was from a fire which he would build at times, quite some distance from his "home." However, it seems as though Demitro would have things just that way.

After the officers had taken him to the city police station the chief offered to send him to the Lawrence County Home. Dimitro refused to go, saying he would run away if sent there.

"I do not bother anyone and I want to stay where I have been living," the chief quotes him as declaring. Welfare officers also have declared their willingness to do something for him. He remains adamant.

A charge of vagrancy was placed against Dimitro when arrested.

To Get the Best Cough Remedy, Mix It at Home

Quicker Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking.

This famous recipe is used by millions of housewives, because there is no other way to obtain such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs that start from colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of cough remedy, far superior to anything you could buy ready-made, and you get four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of severe coughs, giving you double-quick relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Showdown On Government Expenditures May Be Delayed

Hope Business Will Increase

Action On Expenditures Will Likely Come During February Or March

FEDERAL BUDGET MAY BE PRUNED

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9—With their eyes on the business situation, administrative leaders in congress today revealed a showdown on governmental expenditures was unlikely until February or March.

If business snaps out of the doldrums, following the usually quiet operations in steel and other heavy industries this month, the pruning knife undoubtedly will be applied to the federal budget, it was said.

But a continuation of the business recession into the spring, when business ordinarily takes the upgrade, would probably not see wholesale curtailments in appropriations. Continued federal aid would be necessary, members explained, to help keep the wheels of commerce moving and to take cars of the needy.

Tax Revision Slated.

Likewise, the general revision of the tax law was slated for February or March. House leaders were planning to call up the tax bill about January 15. By that time, President Roosevelt's summary of the fiscal situation will be before congress in his annual message opening the January session, and time will be unfolding the trend of business.

Anticipating an upward spurt in business activity with the turn of the year, administration chieftains were examining the list of emergency appropriations with a view to reducing them. A $1,000,000,000 clash in expenditures was being figured on the assumption business will be humming by spring.

That the new tax bill will eliminate many of the features of existing law protested by business, was generally assured on Capitol Hill. Modification of the surtax on undistributed corporate earnings and easing of the capital gains and losses levy were expected to go far toward stimulating private enterprise and employment.

However, congressional chieftains said the present outlook is not favorable toward any reduction in the net burden of taxation. A sharp upturn in employment, making it possible to slash emergency expenditures and thereby make less revenue adequate, would change the picture, they said.

AROUND CITY HALL

Carpenters have completed laying a hard wood floor in the city treasurer's office. It is reported that within the not far future a second new door will be built at the police station garage.

Several police alarm boxes will be relocated in order that new wire which will be strung will not have to be hung in sections populated by trees which would short-circuit the wires.

Although winter is not far distant contagion here has not increased to any noticeable degree. There are not more than a half dozen cases of scarlet fever listed on health bureau books.

Civil service commission for police will examine applicants for police jobs at city hall, December 20. The old list expires December 21. Not many were named permanently from the present eligible list.

Of the approximately $1,000, in receipts collected last month by the department of public affairs about $850,00 represented fines and costs.

Chauncey Davis, sanitary policeman, has condemned as insanitary, a house in Croton avenue in which a man was found living. The man was taken by police to the city jail on a charge of suspicion, pending an investigation.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath and Salvation Army officers are preparing for the Mayor's Christmas party at the Penn theater, Christmas morning. Gifts are being collected for the needy children of the city.

I Never Want to see Another Cathartic!

Here's a way to AVOID two tyrants—common constipation and cathartics, too!

Simply put back in your diet two of Nature's own laxatives that are lost by eating soft, "refined" foods: These NATURAL laxatives are the intestinal-tonic vitamin "B,"—and "bulk."

Kellogg's All-Bran is a good source of vitamin "B,"—to tone your intestinal tract and promote regular elimination. All-Bran has "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination.

All-Bran is a crunchy, toasted cereal. Eat it with milk or cream and fruits. Delicious in muffins. But, however you eat it, use it REGULARLY: eat two tablespoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation—and cathartics, too! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Hope To Prevent Loss Of Purses

Light-Fingered Gentry Apt To Pay Visit To City Any Time

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell and Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter are preparing to counteract the attempt of any pickpocket to ply his vocation here during the Christmas holiday season.

Pickpockets watch for store patrons to flash large sums of money and as eagerly watch for customers to lay down purses on counters.

"Don't carry large rolls of bills and don't lay pocketbooks on counters," said the chief today to store patrons.

WILL RELOCATE POLICE BOXES

Arrangements have been made by Rex Hughes, city electrician, with Mayor Charles E. McGrath whereby a police call box now at Norwood and Highland avenues will be moved to Winter and Highland avenues and a similar box at Croton avenue near the Croton school will be moved to a point in Croton avenue near the Croton M. E. church. According to Hughes the boxes can be better serviced at the new locations.

Ellwood Wins From Monaca

Tubers Take Exciting Game In Final Quarter On Wednesday Night 34- To 30

STASICK STARS IN LAST PERIOD

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—After a nip and tuck contest never diverging more than a few points, Ellwood City high school basketball team for the second time this week came from behind in the final quarter to defeat their opponents, Monaca high, at Lincoln court, on Wednesday night, by a score of 34 to 30.

A large crowd of spectators assembled in the gym for their first glimpse of this year's aspirants in action on their home court.

Stasick, a forward replacement, was the night's star, winning the admiration of the fans by scoring six field goals in the final period to provide the winning margin for the Ellwood team.

In the first period Ellwood led 7 to 5, with Robuck making a good left-hand shot under the basket, a field goal by Bianco and three points were added by the foul route. Ullincy scored for Monaca and the other three points were made by the same foul route.

Monaca added ten points to Ellwood's seven in the second period and the score was 15 to 14 for Monaca. Greco, Robuck, DeBortoli and Cunningham made Ellwood's points and Ullincy, Holy, Lindsay and Zitzman scored for Monaca. Just before the half ended Coach Newton sent Stasick and Greco in to replace Robuck and Bianco, and Miller to replace DeBortoli.

Both teams added six points in the third period with Monaca maintaining their one-point lead. Busany made three beautiful shots for Monaca to increase their score. Fusco was credited with four of Ellwood's points and the other two by Greco, who delighted the spectators during the game with three left-hand shots from difficult positions.

It was during the last period that Stasick turned in his brilliant performance, scoring six field goals from various points, including long and under the basket shots. For one score he intercepted a pass and dribbled the length of the court for an under the basket shot. Monaca added nine points in the final period with Pollock, Cain and Lindsay scoring.

Preceding the main game, the Ellwood Reserves topped the Monaca Reserves 20 to 15 with Berendt, Rubino, Ottavano, Miller, Bell and Gentile making field goals. An unusual feature of the preliminary game was that Monaca failed to make one goal with their fifteen points scored by the foul method.

To conclude this week's schedule, the locals will go to Beaver on Friday night:

IS IMPROVING

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—William Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bender, of Brown's Addition, who was injured on Tuesday evening when the sled on which he was riding crashed into a parked automobile on Wayne avenue, is improving, according to reports from his parents this morning. He is suffering from very painful leg and abdominal injuries, and is confined to the local hospital.

Agnostics who think people no longer have faith in Providence should watch them at the steering wheel.

Legless Beauty Aids Cripples

Jessie Simpson, 19-year-old artist's model who lost her legs when she fell under the wheels of a train, is shown with her mother as she left Newark Airport for Chicago. She will visit the mayor of the Illinois metropolis and aid in presenting Christmas presents to the city's crippled children. (Central Press)

Mr. Francis gave one of the finest addresses to his fellow dealers that has ever been delivered at a gathering of these associations. His wit and humor in his talk kept the dealers in an uproar the entire evening.

Representatives in the automobile dealers business came from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Youngstown, New Castle, Beaver Falls and Zelienople to attend the round up sponsored by the local dealers.

Mrs. F. D. Powell Elected President Of Ladies Aid Society

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—Fourteen members of the Ladies Aid Society of the Immanuel Reformed church assembled on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James N. Mackey, of Fourth street, for their December meeting.

An appetizing casserole dinner was served the group at 12 o'clock by Mrs. Mackey, aided by Mrs. M. A. May and Mrs. Jennie Means.

Mrs. Milton A. May was presented with a beautiful quilt by the society as a Christmas gift and she responded in a charming manner.

Library Receiving Many New Volumes Of Wide Interest

Books Of Every Type Procured Constantly To Please Varied Interests

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—New books of wide interest are constantly being put into circulation at the local public library and a few of the outstanding publications just received are mentioned here.

Catering to the varied interests of all the readers, the latest books of every type are selected for the public's use by the librarian, Mrs. Catherine M. Charles.

"When China Unites" by Harry Ganes is an interpretive history of the Chinese revolution and "The Far East Comes Nearer" by Hessell Tiltman, outlines the inside story of events in Eastern Asia, which are of crucial importance to the whole world, at the present time.

Another war torn and weary country, Spain, is vividly described by Kate O'Brien, a distinguished novelist, in her book, "Farewell Spain," in which she says hail and farewell to a land she knew before the guns of civl war shattered its serenity.

For those who crave travel descriptions in their literary menu, "Edge of Toas Desert" by Mabel Dodge Luhan, is recommended. With a New Mexican background, the story introduces the reader to the Pueblo Indians.

From England to France, Balkans to Turkey, Damascus to Bagdad, across the Syrian desert to the Himalayas, Afghanistan to India, Sumatra, Java, Siam, China, around the world on a motorcycle, is a summary of "One Man Caravan" by Robert Edison Fulton, Jr., describing his own experiences.

"Encore" a follow-up of "Daniel Froham Presents" by Daniel Froham is a story of the theater written in a reflective, historical, reminiscent mood that will delight theater adherents. A dramatic cavalcade of the early stage in America and England, it is filled with authentic recollections and anecdotes covering a long span of time and a wide variety of materials.

Kings and ex-kings, diplomats and generals, authors and statesman, rebels and dictators, they each have their place in "Great Contemporaries," by Winston S. Churchill.

Emil Ludwig author of "The Nile" during his writing of that story became intensely interested in Cleopatra and has written a story bearing that title that deals not only with Cleopatra, Caesar and Anthony but of the whole ancient world in which that trio played dominant roles.

Biographies, "This Is My Story" by Eleanor Roosevelt and "Madame Curie" by her daughter Eve, are of exceptional interest throughout giving "behind the scenes" accounts of their lives.

For children, "The Hurricane's Children" or "Tales from your Neck O' the Woods" by Carl Cramer deals with American folk-lore, which rightfully should be every child's heritage from fairy-tale days.

Continue Effort To Have Koppel Bridge Re-opened

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 9.—The Ellwood-Koppel bridge is still closed and its opening remains entirely in the hands of the Public Service Commission in Harrisburg.

If the commission can prove that the bridge is unsafe then it is up to the Harmony Transportation to get it repaired immediately which it is said they are willing to do.

Chamber Secretary Denny Schill has appealed to Secretary of Highways Warren VanDyke who informed the local Chamber that his department could not over-rule the Public Service Commission on opening the bridge but through his chief engineer, H. E. Marshall, Secretary Schill was informed that engineers will be on the job within a few days checking the advisability of the state taking the bridge over and freeing it from toll.

The Chamber of Commerce will turn its full forces on getting the bridge opened and freed of toll.

Sub-Station Light Display Is Attractive

Is One Of Most Elaborate Christmas Displays In Place On West Side

Persons travelling West Washington street to the west side at night are attracted by what is perhaps the most beautiful display of Christmas decorations that has been seen for several years in this section.

The many vari-colored lights are arranged on a number of small trees planted within the past year at the west side electrical sub-station. An attractive white fence is topped with a string of colored lights also, and adds background to the picture.

In the summer this plot of ground where the interruban cars formerly travelled is beautiful because of the careful landscape work. Now in the winter the power company workmen have made the plot equally attractive, by the use of colored lights and Christmas decorations.

Cotton Gets Buck, Restoring Faith

The faith of Charles H. Cotton in his fellow man has been restored. There are some honest people left in the world, or perhaps it was that no one found the six-point buck after all.

With his son and some friends Mr. Cotton went up into the wilds of Jefferson county deer hunting a few days ago. Mr. Cotton is assistant road foreman of engines for the B. & O. and forgot about running schedules long enough to get out into the woods.

Late in the afternoon he brought down a six-point buck weighing 150 pounds, but because darkness was coming on decided to get it in the morning. The morning came but no buck and Mr. Cotton came on home.

In the meantime his son and a farmer went out into the woods and finally located the buck, lying where it had been shot. Mr. Cotton had miscalculated his position.

New Calendar Plan Is Urged

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A new calendar, with a 30-day February, and two extra days to be known as "December Y" and "June L" was advocated in the house by Rep. Gray (D) Pennsylvania.

Declaring the present Gregorian calendar causes great inconveniences and difficulties in business, he urged congress to fix the new calendar by resolution.

Under the plan January, April, July, October and November would have 31 days and the other months would have 30.

The present short February would be abolished.

To make up the extra days, Gray would have a "December Y" following December 30 each year. And each four years, because of Leap Year, he would have a "June L."

State Is Victor In First Leg Of Liquor Tax Battle

May Eventually Collect Millions In Taxes From Pennsylvania Distilleries

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—Victor in the first leg of its legal battle to collect approximately $20,000,000 from Pennsylvania distillers, the state moved today to defend constitutionality of the Liquor Floor Tax Act of 1933 under which it won a directed verdict of more than nine million dollars in Dauphin county court late yesterday.

President Judge William Hargest set December 21 as the date for argument on constitutionality of the act of the legislature which imposed a $2 per gallon tax on all whiskies stored in Pennsylvania warehouses between November 22 and December 5, 1933.

A jury of eight men and four women who had been listening to testimony for almost four weeks technically awarded the state $9,117,886.14 upon instructions from the presiding jurist after he had reserved decision on legal and constitutional questions involved in the case. The verdict represents the balance due on the taxes, interest and the attorney general' commission.

Defendant in the suit was A. Overholt and Company. The jury was also instructed to return verdicts against the Large Distilling Company, another subsidiary of National Distillers, Inc., and the Joseph S. Finch Company, a Schenley subsidiary. Specifically, the state won $7,188,891.69 from Finch, $1,704,347.96 from Overholt and $224,646.50 from Large.

Argue Controversy On Poor District Plan, January 3

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—The State Supreme Court today took original jurisdiction in equity suits to determine constitutionality of the legislative act providing for abolition of all poor districts and termination of the terms of the poor directors, overseers, guardians or managers thereof.

The high court's order, handed down in the suit of the Scranton Poor District against the commissioners of Lackawanna county, directs that the proceedings pending in the county court and all records be transferred to the supreme court, which listed the case for argument during the week of January 3.

Similar suits have been filed by a number of other poor districts.

Housing Plan For Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9—The Pittsburgh housing authority, in charge of a projected $11,000,000 slum clearance-housing project here, today moved to raise its share of the sum in order to obtain $10,000,000 earmarked for the work by the National Housing Administration.

George E. Evans, chairman, said he was confident the authority would have no difficulty raising its $1,000,000 quota through the sale of bonds.

As soon as the bond sale is negotiated, said Evans, work will begin. Some 1850 housing units are planned, he said, the houses to rent for $5 a room, or at $15, $20, and $25 per month for units of three, four and five rooms.

New Castle High Opens Season At Kittaning Friday

Red Hurricane Hoopsters Will Make Basketball Debut Away From Home

PROBABLE LINEUP ANNOUNCED TODAY

New Castle high school's 1937-38 Red Hurricane basketball team makes its debut on Friday evening, battling Kittanning high, at Kittanning, Pa.

The local hoopsters are all set for the season. While the grid season was still in progress, most of the Red Hurricane passers were drilling on the hardwood. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh today announced that the starting lineup will be: Koszela and Marvin at the forward posts; Straussbaugh at center, and Sniezek and Rgylinski at the sentinel positions. Nocera, who was a member of the grid eleven, was late in reporting. He is varsity timber and is likely to see action in tomorrow's tussle.

The remainder of the varsity squad includes: Carey, Wenda, Bombyk, Campbell, Ostrosky and Fraser. In order to bolster the guard set-up, Bridenbaugh may shift Nocera from forward to guard. Nocera, has played center, and forward. Ryglinski departs from the squad at the end of the semester. For this reason, the local mentor is planning ahead.

If practice sessions can be used as a criterion, the local team should be fast, rugged and smooth. The squad made a creditable showing throughout the preliminary practices. Faculty manager Ralph Gardner stated that New Castle opens its home season on December 20, battling Erie East. On Friday, December 17, the locals travel to Farrell.

Friday also marks the start of the season for the New Castle High Reserves who are booked to play the Kittanning Reserves in the preliminary contest at 7 o'clock. The local reserve roster includes: Cename, V. Kelley, Fred Maciarello, Steve Motsko, Ed Noga, Socrates Roussos, Ed Sowinski, Albert Theophilus, Greer, Timinski, Joe Ross and Gender.

Speedy Ladybird

Lovely Jane Topping showed members of her New York social set that night clubs aren't necessary for fast stepping. She is shown at the control of her plane in which she flew from Detroit to New York in two hours and twenty minutes—an unofficial record.

Make way for the second generation, is the statement of Regis Welsh in a story recently published in the Pittsburgh Press. Welsh tells of bristling, ambitious, capable sons of once famous sports figures whose names flitted across the sports pages a generation ago. Included among those is Bill Chip, son of George Chip, former middleweight champion of the world. Welsh writes:

"Take yourself back to Old City Hall on the night of Oct. 11, 1913, and see a rugged, bone-crushing, right hand swing bring the middleweight championship of the world to George Chip, tough coal miner from New Castle. Put yourself in Duquesne Garden two months later—Dec. 23—when Chip once again brought that right up from the floor and flattened Frank Klaus, Pittsbugh's first of four world titleholders in that division.

"Then take a stroll to Duquesne university campus and watch William Charles Chip, 165-pound, five feet, 10-inch son of the old New Castle battler playing halfback for Duquesne Freshmen and carving a place for himself on next year's varsity. Then you will realize that time really does hustle along

"Young Chip is a triple-threat, according to Lou Skender, freshman coach, and his work this season augurs well for success under "Clipper" Smith next season. He has plenty of his father's will to win and never-say-die spirit; is fast and has a 'football brain'. Occasionally, he puts on the gloves and does a little boxing, just to keep in shape, but he prefers football."

Teddy Yarosz, former middleweight champion of the world, who lives at Monaca, will fight Carmelo Candel, a Frenchman, tonight at Paris. Yarosz is enroute to his Polish homeland.

Billy Conn, Pittsburgh and Solly Krieger, New York, both middleweights, will provide the punches at Duquesne garden, Pittsburgh, December 16. It will be Conn's first fight since winning from Young Corbett at Pittsburgh.

A principal's charge that administration of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association was developing along "the lines of Fascism" developed a heated discussion yesterday at West Chester, Pa., "In Italy all civil rights were gradually taken away until there were none and the same thing is happening to us" said Edwin H. Snow, principal of Lower Merion, Pa., junior high school, at the meeting of District 1 coaches and principals. Snow opposed a proposed amendment that would lower the age limit for PIAA sports participation from 20 to 19 years. The district representatives defeated a proposed amendment to lower the age limit and another to permit spring football practice, but approved one revising eligibility rules.

Basketball team of Potomac State Teachers college, Keyser, W. Va., lost to the Maryland State police $101 to 0, at Baltimore yesterday. State Policeman E. H. Pinder stopped Coach D. G. Lough, enroute with five members of the squad for a game with Loyola at Baltimore last night and charged him with exceeding 60 miles an hour. The president of the college promised to wire the collateral and Lough was released.

Pete Sarron, of Birmingham, defeated Carl Guggino, of Tampa, at New York in his first bout as a lightweight. The fight went the limit of 10 rounds. . . . Jockey Willie Lee Johnson won on three mounts, Me O My, Campagna and Hermone, at the New Orleans Fair Grounds yesterday. . . . Bob L. Green, Jr., of St. Davids, Pa., left end, was elected captain of the Harvard 1938 eleven last night.

The Washington Redskins led with three places on the International News Service All-American pro football team for 1937. The Detroit Lions, Green Bay Packers and New York Giants got two each on the first eleven. . . . Joe Di Maggio, of the Yankees, was voted the outstanding athlete of 1937 by the Philadelphia Writers' Association last night.

Intimate National Loop May Later Adopt "Jack-Rabbit" Ball

NO IMPORTANT PLAYER DEALS

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Still on opposite sides of the fence over the type of baseball to be put in play next season, National and American major league magnates were homeward bound from their annual winter confab today.

If both leagues stick hard by their decisions, the 1938 season will find the National league team batting a "dead ball" around the ball park, while the American league will be clouting the "jack rabbit ball". All of which should go smoothly enough until attempts are made to bring two pennant winners together for a crucial world series.

It was the general opinion in the baseball camps, however, that the National league having voted for the slower ball without regard for the understanding between the two circuits that they would act together, may decide to return to the "jack rabbit" sphere before the season opens.

Meanwhile team managers brought their trading sessions to an end in a blaze of inactivity. Not a deal was completed in the leagues during the past week of chatter, except for transactions with the minors.

Meeting in joint session yesterday, the two leagues voted to appropriate $100,000 for a celebration of baseball's centennial in 1939.

They also voted to continue appropriation for another year of $20,000 for the promotion of the American league junior baseball tournament.

New Radio Arrangement.

A proposal from the minors that the new major-minor agreement include a clause providing for the drafting of umpires was turned down.

The American league's plan to reveal details of a new arrangement on the broadcasting of the games struck a snag. At Tuesday's meeting the league had voted to award to one sponsor the exclusive rights in the six cities in the circuit which would allow broadcasts of games. Yesterday, it was learned, that two clubs hesitated about signing up under the exclusive contract.

The balking prevented L. C. McEvoy, the league's supervisor on broadcasting, from making the scheduled announcement.

HURLS BOTTLE THROUGH PAINTING

BOSTON, Dec. 9.—The injudicious tossing of a beer bottle through a $10,000 painting of an Oxford-Cambridge boat race yesterday netted Elias L. Stavropoulos, 25, Chelsea boxing trainer, a sentence of one year in the house of correction. He appealed and was held in $2,500 bail.

The trainer was charged with throwing the bottle in the Boston arena. Neil McKennon, arena official, said it cut a 16-inch gash in the picture which was painted in 1884.

Bill O'Mahoney Is Leading Scorer On Grove City Eleven

Seventeen Grid Letters Awarded; Crimson Team Loses Close Ones

GROVE CITY, Dec. 9—Bill O'Mahoney, of Mercer, halfback on the Grove City College football team, led the Crimson scoring during the past season. His three touchdowns for 18 points was tops for the lowest-scoring eleven in recent Grove City history, as the Crimson won only the opening game, dropping the last seven in a row.

Ray Brunton, of this city, a junior, end, counted two touchdowns for 12 points; Bob Binghame, of New Brighton, halfback, and Jim Anderson, Beaver fullback, each counted one touchdown, while Nick Maddalena, Grove City tackle, registered four points after touchdowns.

After defeating Clarion, 7-6, the Crimson gridders lost the remaining games by margins of one touchdown or less, except for the Ithaca game, when the score was 33-14. Hiram won, 13-7; Juniata, 13-6; Allegheny, 3-0; Slippery Rock, 10-6; California, 7-6; Thiel, 6-0.

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Council, the following were awarded football letters: James Anderson, Louis Bibri, Ray Brunton, Wallace Christley, Don Dennison, Joe DePrima, Jack Findley, George Ketler, Fred Laderer, Nick Maddalena, Clifford Mathis, Wm. O'Mahoney, Maurice Patterson, Harold Randall, John Seyler, Manager Jack Freed and Cheerleader Louis Norman. Of the players, only O'Mahoney, Mathis, Laderer, Christley and Seyler were seniors.

Assistant basketball managers named for the coming season were Edward Bernardo, Connellsville, and Henry Moore, Hubbard, O. The Athletic Council includes the following: Seniors, Richard Flenner, Kittanning; John Chatham, Pittsburgh; Thelma Wilson, Ellwood City and Vera Hill, West View. Juniors, Robert Patterson, Turtle Creek. Sophomores, Charles Hartley, Grove City; Jean McKinney, Butler. Freshman, John Graham, Butler. Officers of the council are: President, John Chatham; vice president, Robert Patterson, and secretary, Vera Hill.

Detroit Fans have been yelling murder since the trade that took away Gerald Walker....but it's a fact that Walker, idol of the bleachers, never has been popular among the players...it's also a fact that the same fans who now threaten to jump into the Detroit river and end it all, probably will be cheering for Vernon Kennedy when he pitches against Walker in a White Sox uniform next summer...and jeering Mister Walker....without Walker the Tigers will be less colorful...but we are willing to make our usual 5-cent mind bet the team is more competent.

Herr Maxie Schmeling thinks he'll beat Harry Thomas all right in the Garden, Dec. 13....but just the same, he's a bit foxy about the affair...the other day he persuaded Mike Jacobs to change their contract insuring a return meeting within 90 days if Harry should knock him around...Schmeling has been training at Madame Bey's in Summit, N. J., and is down to 196 pounds, his best fighting weight... Madame Bey's place probably brings back many memories to the German...on his first trip to America years ago Max was shelved at Madame Bey's for nine months with a broken hand...in those days Paulino Uzcudun was the big man at the camp...and Max just another hanger-on.

Branch Rickey provides the best chuckle of the winter, telling all the boys that Joe Medwick is on the market...and anybody can have him for $1,000,000...but the laugh may have a kick in it...wait until the Cards try to talk to Ducky Wucky about a contract.

A little football aftermath is coming up in January in a New Jersey court. Bill Fleckenstein, former Iowa lineman, later pro player, is asking a national magazine and Benny Friedman for $250,000 each...because Benny in an article referred to his conduct as unsportsmanlike. ...Kingfish Levinsky, attending a fight in Chicago the other night, complained to an usher that he couldn't find his seat...and the usher's retort courteous, "You found it easy the night you were supposed to fight Joe Louis."

This department has been closed to items about John Montague until he wins something.....No more racing in the north until spring comes to Lexington, Ky....I understand all the sponge retailers have gone south for the winter...That boxing bout between Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers and Frankie Wallace in Cleveland brought back old times...when Wallace was a leading lightweight contender, and Lou was his sparring partner, broke and hungry...finally Lou was booked to fight Frankie, and with the knowledge he had gained of Wallace's style in the sparring sessions, beat him...that was Lou's start upward.

Stock Market Turns Sluggish

Two Day Period Of Rising Prices Brings Slowing Up Process Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The stock market turned sluggish today, following two days of rising prices.

Losses in the copper group ran to well over a point. Anaconda, Kennecott and American Smelting were the chief targets.

U. S. Steel lost a point, along with Youngstown, but Bethlehem limited its decline to a fraction.

While rails reacted with the rest of the list, a few held behind plus signs and losses elsewhere in the group were nominal. Great Northern preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio and Northern Pacific were higher.

Urges Purge Of G. O. P. Committee

New Hampshire Governor Suggests "New Deal" In Party Leadership

(International News Service)

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 9—Declaring the leadership is out of step and out of tune, Gov. Francis Murphy of New Hampshire today suggested a complete purge of the membership of the Republican national committee.

In taking his stand, he followed the lead of Gov. George D. Aiken of Vermont, who in a recent open letter to the Republican National committee, demanded a sweeping change in the party leadership.

"The best thing that could happen to the Republican party would be for every member of the national committee to resign" Murphy declared here, where he is making his annual visit. He was elected Republican governor of New Hampshire last year, although the state went for Roosevelt in the presidential election.

"There is a great opportunity facing the Republican party today," he said. "It must go before the American people not only with clean hands, but its heart must be right also. The party must have new blood. Young and progressive men should be placed in charge. If this is done the Republican party will be able to accomplish for the people those objectives that are so necessary for their welfare.

"The death knell for the reactionaries has been sounded. The sooner they realize and know they are out of step and out of tune the better will be the opportunity of success for the republican party.
